Journalism Major Takes the Feather

By GAIL and RUSS GROVE

Carol Robinson received the symbolic headdress and gown of her new title, Princess Attira XXVII, at the official opening of Ma-ie Day 1961 this morning.

Her selection, made by the students at Wednesday's all-school election, was announced by Student Council President Lyle Franzen at the ceremony on the terrace of the Student Center.

Carol was presented a traveling trophy and a gift and will receive the traditional bouquet of roses at tonight's Ma-ie Day Dance at Peony Park.

Other candidates who now comprise the princess's court are Karen Jensen, Donna Pullen, Mary Schoep and Joyce Stolley.

Representing Chi Omega sorority, Carol is a journalism major, secretary of the senior class and a member of Waokiya, women's honorary.

She is a member of the University Players and has had starring roles in such plays as "The Happiest Millionaire," "Candida," "George Washington Slept Here" and "Talk to Me Like the Rain."

Her journalistic activities have included the positions of society, news and managing editor of the Gateway and a term on the Board of Student Publications.

She has held membership on the Student Activities Committee, Alpha Psi Omega and Alpha Lambda Delta.

Carol plans to leave for San Francisco June 16 where she will audition for the San Francisco Playhouse. She has also shown interest in working for a publishing firm.

She and her court will ride the O Club float in the parade through downtown Omaha this afternoon.

Ma-ie Day festivities were ignited this morning with a Sunrise Dance at the Student Center followed by a breakfast of pancakes, sausage, juice and coffee.

Immediately following the princess announcement on the Terrace, the Student Council Game Time will be held in the Pep Bowl, just south of the library.

There will be a potato sack race for both men and women, a three-legged race, bubble-gum blowing and egg tossing contests, pie-eating competition for women, tire-jumping and a balloon-popping contest for faculty members.

The annual picnic will this year feature hamburgers, potato chips, baked beans, ice cream and a cold drink. The 50-cent meal will be served in the Pep Bowl at 11:30 a. m.

All floats and decorated cars (only those registered) are to begin forming near the Fieldhouse at 12:30.

"At 1:30 sharp—and I do mean sharp, the parade will begin," said Council President Franzen.

The parade will move from the campus east on Dodge to 30th, north to California, east (past Creighton University) to 16th, south to Farnam, west to 19th, north to Dodge then will return west to the University.

As it began, Ma-ie Day will close with dancing.

Eddy Haddad will play for the annual event at Peony Park starting at 9 p. m. Float and decorated car winners will be announced during intermission.

The dance—and Ma-ie Day festivities—will end at 1 a. m.

In and Out— Grants May Stay In Sports Budget

The much-discussed proposal to drop grants-in-aid and get out of the Central Intercollegiate Conference was eliminated from the Student Activities Study Committee's final recommendation list adopted at Tuesday's concluding meeting.

Though approved at last week's meeting, the move was brought up for further discussion, hashed over and finally stricken from the record by a vote of 14 to 9.

The amended list will be submitted to President Bail and the Board of Regents at their May 18 meeting.

'Grain of Sand' on Sale in Bookstore

"Grain of Sand," Omaha University's literary magazine, has a double purpose. In addition to providing an outlet for creative writing, it is used to stimulate interest in high schools.

"Forty-five cents, the price of a copy of 'Grain of Sand,' doesn't even pay the printing cost," said Dr. Ralph Wardle, English department head.

"Sales on campus are normally quite low," he continued. "The magazine's greatest value, moneywise, lies in its public relations value."

Copies are sent to high schools and a contest for high school contributors is held each year. Of the sixteen winners in the nine years of the contest, four have come to OU.

The current issue, now available in the book store, Dr. Wardle said, contains a large number of poems, because "essays and articles are hard to get."

Much controversy was generated by the "return to amateurism" proposal as the committee members present appeared to be nearly evenly split in their opinions.

A compromise measure introduced by Dr. George Harris calling for a wait-and-see position while further study is made was turned down by a single vote, 11-10.

Dr. Paul Kennedy then suggested dropping the two measures from the recommendation list altogether. The committee agreed (14-9) and the final meeting of the study group was adjourned.

Since virtually every extra-curricular activity on campus may be directly affected by any action taken as a result of the committee recommendations, the Gateway feels that the entire list merits publication.

The following is a condensation of the final report of the Student Activities Study Committee as it will be presented to the Board of Regents and President Bail next week.

Summaries and explanations have been eliminated to conserve space. Only the specific suggestions are mentioned.

Intramurals

The employment of full-time personnel for both men's and women's intramurals.

More and better use of physical education majors in officiating, coaching and instructing.

Immediate investigation into the provision of additional outside facilities for tennis, handball, basketball, etc.

Principal Is Alum Choice for Citation

The principal of Benson West School will be cited by the Alumni Association at Achievement Day June 1. Thresa Clark is recognized by the alumni as one of Omaha's outstanding educators in the classroom as well as the community.

Miss Clark received her B.S. in 1934 and her M.S. in 1948 from OU. She served as president of the Alumni Board of Directors and has held every executive position in the OU Graduate Club.

Miss Clark was named "Outstanding Woman of the Year" in 1959 by the Business and Professional Women's Club.

As well as the alumni achievement award, four undergraduate scholarships and an award to the "Outstanding Athlete of the Year" will be presented at the thirteenth annual banquet. Faculty and student friends of Miss Clark are invited to attend the banquet June 1 at 6:30 p. m. in the Student Center. Reservations for $2.50 can be made in the Alumni Office before May 30.

School Sing to Be Held on Terrace

The competition song for the men is "The Halls of Ivy." The women will sing "Summertime" from "Porgy and Bess."

Winners of the song contest will be announced at a dance in the Student Center Ballroom following the Sing.

During the Sing Omicron Delta Kappa and Waokiya officers will be tapped.

New members of ODK and Waokiya will be initiated at a banquet to be held Sunday, May 21.

Student Art Work Available Sunday

More than one hundred original art works will be auctioned off Sunday afternoon at the third annual student art sale in the Student Center.

A preview showing of the works available will be held in the Ben Gallagher Room at 1:30 p. m. with the sale starting an hour later.

Oil paintings, watercolors, prints, sculpture and ceramics will be featured.

Verbal bids will be taken for the oil paintings and certain other works while written bids must be submitted for the remainder. Last year's sale produced an average price of 10 to 15 dollars per painting.

Each buyer will receive a ticket for the drawing for four works by the art department faculty.

Instructors Kenneth Nehmer, who will call the bids, and Jane Andersen are in charge.

Proceeds will go to an art scholarship and a trip to a mid-west museum for the art club.

Committee Recommendations Made

pool, indoor basketball and volleyball courts should be made available.

Current procedures for purchase and maintenance of equipment should be continued. Joint use with the athletic department should continue.

Independents and other non-Greek organizations should be encouraged to greater participation.

Students on academic probation should not be allowed to participate.

The possibility of granting at least some credit in PE for intramural participation should be considered.

Intercollegiate Speech

One faculty member should be added to the speech department with the added duty of assistant debate coach.

The budget should be augmented to provide for a 50 per cent increase in the number of competitive events.

Dramatics

The renovation of the auditorium and stage should proceed as quickly as possible.

As soon as financially feasible, a studio theater should be added to make it possible to do work in experimental theater production and provide badly-needed rehearsal space.

Provision should be made to provide for regular replacement of antiquated equipment.

Consideration should be given to the addition of faculty personnel to give instruction in costuming and to increase the offerings of the University Theater.

The feasibility of offering season tickets to citizens in the community should be examined, including a plan for stepped up publicity.

Music

The President should discuss with the departments and appoint a committee to consider the advisability of and possible steps toward making the University the "wellspring and focal point" of musical and cultural life of our city.

Care should be taken to assure that "off-campus" activities and commitments of the Music faculty do not interfere with the school program.

Choral activity should be expanded in variety to avoid the tendency to over-emphasize the "choir aspect" and attention should be given this in the selection of directors.

All funds and expenditures should be consolidated so that the total may be planned ahead.

Student Publications

Maintenance of the status quo.

Intercollegiate Athletics

An intercollegiate program in minor sports should be carried out consistent with student participation and available schedules.

The PE and intramural programs should be strengthened, giving emphasis to well-rounded activities directed to the physical fitness of the entire student body.

At the earliest possible date several well-lighted, all-weather tennis courts and a swimming pool of collegiate standards should be constructed.

Judges Pick OU Beauty, Jan Moravec, Miss Omaha

By SHARON JOHNSON

Out of 12 Miss Omaha hopefuls, Jan Moravec, Omaha University freshman, was chosen to represent Omaha in the Miss Nebraska contest.

Petite brunette Miss Moravec was judged on appearance in a bathing suit and evening dress and on her talent.

For her talent, Miss Moravec played the rendition "Dizzy Fingers" on the accordion.

At the end of the pageant Miss Moravec was asked two questions. The first was "If you had a date with a boy and another boy should show up unexpectedly, what would you do and why?"

She repeated the question and said, "I would tell the boy that I already had plans for the evening, not with whom or doing what, but that I would like to talk with him the next day."

Her second question was "If there was anyone in the world you could meet, who would it be and why?"

Would Like to Meet Kennedy

She answered, "I'd like to meet President Kennedy so that I might learn some of the information not usually known by the public."

Miss Moravec is 5 feet 2 inches tall and weighs 100 pounds. Her measurements are 36-23-35.

Jan has received a TV set and two awards for modeling courses so far. Her duties as Miss Omaha will be to make guest appearances and to greet celebrities coming to Omaha for the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Records Broken as Unaffiliated Wins

Three records were smashed as Unaffiliated took first place in the Women's Recreation Association Track and Field Meet last Tuesday afternoon.

The Meet, previously scheduled for last Thursday, May 4, was postponed until Tuesday because of bad weather. A record turn out in several of the events kept competition at a peak.

Aletha Biddle of Unaffiliated broke the old shot put record of 28 feet, 2 inches by recording a 29 feet, 5 inch throw. An Unaffiliated 220 yard relay team made up of Jeanie Dreier, Judy Siders, June Killian, and Carol Vetter, chalked up a record speed of 31.5 seconds.

June Killian also broke the old hurdles record of 9.9 seconds with a 9.6 second effort.

Jean Severa of Chi Omega came within 6 inches of equaling her last year's record in the hop, step, and jump by marking a distance of 29 feet, 5 inches.

Challenge!

Thinclads Look to CIC Meet Today

Omaha University's track team will head for Emporia, Kansas today to participate in the Central Intercollegiate Conference track championships that will be held over the weekend.

The Indians made a very creditable showing in the 13th Doane relays at Crete Tuesday night, winning two relays. Freshman Roger Sayers again took the measure of Doane's heralded pint-sized sprinter Clint Skinner, beating him with a 9.7 century.

Bruce Hunter could not quite cope with Hasting's Jack Osborne and finished second in both the 120 yard high hurdles and the broadjump.

The mile and half-mile relay teams composed of Sayers, Hunter, Lloyd Cardwell, Jr., and Dennis Dunning came from behind to win both events. Sayers overhauled Skinner in the half-mile and ace Kearney half-miler Martin Mason in the mile.

No official team standings were kept in the meet, but Head Coach Lloyd Cardwell says had they been kept, OU would have been right near the top.

Coach Cardwell says that the going will be real tough in the CIC meet.

OU Cage Assistant Returns to Ralston

Bob Mackie, Omaha University basketball assistant, has signed a contract as Ralston High basketball coach.

Mackie signed a contract calling for about 65 hundred dollars.

The OU graduate compiled a 22-1 record with the Rams during the 1959-60 season.

Bob Moscrey, also an OU grad, has signed a contract for his return to Thomas Jefferson High in Council Bluffs after a one year stay at Ralston.

Mackie earlier turned down an offer to take the head coach position at OU when Clarence "Sonny" Means resigned.

Creighton handed the Tribe its fourth defeat of the season Tuesday with a 5-4 decision in ten innings.
